

My Freedom Week Assembly Speech

Hi everyone my name is Ashley Garcia and today I want to share a few thoughts about my family heritage. My parents and their family come from Mexico and Honduras. I've learned that my ancestors are hard working people who are dedicated, honest, happy, fun, and people who like to be together and who look out for each other. My choices help me contribute to my family, school, and community.

Something that I've worked hard at is the science fair. The science fair wasn't an easy thing to accomplish because I had to record everything that happened with my project, but with the help of my parents, teacher, (Mrs. Hansen), and school I was able to qualify and move on to other levels.

I can also be an example to others, helping those in need, and being responsible in the things I do. I believe that I can make a difference if I study and work hard to accomplish what I want for my future.

When I'm older and start going to college, one of the things I would like to become is a teacher. Becoming a teacher would help make a difference in the community because in some places children don't have the opportunity to get an education as many other kids do.

I know I can make a difference if I follow my ancestors' example.
