From Principal Clint Smith

Happy November to our eSchool families. As we approach the holiday season, I want to thank you for your patronage. We value your students' educations and hope that all is well as the students in eSchool continue their studies through our K12 program. We know that online school is not always easy and takes great discipline to stay on track. If you are ever in need of help, please contact us here in eSchool- we are happy to help in any way we can.

Writing Focus This School Year

- The Community Council plan has writing as a focus this school year

Social-Emotional Learning Resource

Oftentimes, students may struggle with social/emotional issues- this has increased since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic. Parents of online students may see these struggles and wonder how to address the issues their students are having. These issues can have a tremendous effect on student learning and progress. Here in eSchool, we are aware of this important issue. As such, we wanted to provide information about resources that are available to all students. One such resource is: centervention.com. This is an online resource that has free activities that can be done with families addressing the difficult issues involving social-emotional challenges.

Also, if a student has been diagnosed with anxiety, depression, ADHD or other medical issues that affect learning, please contact the eSchool Principal about a 504 plan that can offer accommodations for students in their learning program. There is no need for students to continue to struggle when they are overwhelmed by such issues. Please reach out today about a 504 if you have concerns.
