There was data presented from the 2022-2023 school year, along with the set goals of the 2023-2024 Land Trust plan. Testing, the numbers of students who do not take the tests was discussed and the council members suggest being more transparent about why testing is important and how it effects the school community. Testing is to understand where students are in their learning. Taking the tests does not reflect negatively on students and there is nothing punitive towards student who do not do well on their testing. The tests are used for data points to help know where students need help in their studies.

There was also a discussion about the core standards- a link will be shared with all parents that show the standards being taught in the curriculum. Parents will have access to know what the testing is based upon. A link will also be shared with parents that has the RISE End-of-Year practice testing available so they can see what the tests look like and how they are structured, based upon the standards.
